THE RAIL PARK RENTALS

Noble Street, N Broad St, Philadelphia

Newly opened in June 2018, Phase One of the Rail Park has sweeping views of Center City's skyline. The park's design was chosen to reflect the neighborhood's industrial roots and repurpose the historic elements of the rail structure wherever possible. A wide path through the park is edged with native canopy trees and other plantings and interspersed with a variety of spaces, wide platform benches, wooden bench swings and walkways. The entrance at 13th and Noble Street, one block east of Broad Street, features a large graphic interpretive wall made of cold rolled steel that has a weathered patina. Its gritty finish and punched graphics evoke the industrial flavor of the neighborhood. Stainless steel bars, representing the railroads that passed through the neighborhood, are etched with names of the train lines and rail history, moving horizontally across the 75-foot long wall. This quarter mile long, open-air, elevated park is home to one of a kind cocktail parties, convention receptions, wedding ceremonies, performances and public facing activations.
